Product Description

In modern life, more and more people are experiencing poor sleep quality. To solve this problem, we will now recommend a brand new mattress for you. The matte topper protector cover not only helps you solve your sleep problems, but also protects the mattress well.

Actually, many people consider matte topper and matte protector cover to be the same thing. But it is not a product. The mattress topper is a soft layer placed on top of the mattress to increase its softness, while the mattress protector cover is placed on top of the mattress to prevent oil stains from entering and better protect the mattress.

Our protective pad cover is made of comfortable cotton (customizable filling according to requirements) with high density, providing a soft wrapping effect. It is a great solution for those hard mattresses to complement the body and relieve discomfort caused by pressure on the waist. Our Mattress Topper uses thick elastic edging technology on the edges, combined with anti slip elastic bands around it, which can be well fixed on the mattress without displacement due to flipping the body at night. It is suitable for various beds with a thickness of 15-35cm. We have also specially paired this with a dedicated Protector Cover, which can prevent water and dirt. The material used is TPU composite fabric, which can effectively block the intake of liquids. The protective cover can undergo multiple durability tests and resist tearing. Can be machine washed and dried.

Why choose Mattress Topper Protector Cover?

1. Improve the softness of the mattress: For those hard mattresses, a mattress topper is your best choice

2. Complete supporting facilities: Our product not only has a matte topper, but also a dedicated protector cover to help you solve problems in one go.

3. Tight fit: The protective cover adopts a fully enclosed structure, and the matte topper is combined with four corner elastic bands to ensure precise bonding with the mattress without displacement.
